

Testimonial of François Drolet*

We've heard about some serious cases, tonight. Often, at these events, these are the ones we hear most about, and I've seen many of them myself. So I could talk to you about things like multiple sclerosis and arthritis. But I think that with cases of MS – there are so many videotaped testimonials that we could do an entire cassette on just them. And the same is true for arthritis.

So; instead, tonight, I want to talk to you about some of the little problems that come up in everyday life to show you that you don't need to be sick or have health problems to use this system

Take colds, for example. Just about everyone gets a cold at one time or another. Now, I won't say you will never get a cold, but this system strengthens the immune system so much that, within two or three days, your cold will simply disappear.

I've also seen very good results with earaches, using the small pads. One or two treatments, and everything is quickly back to normal.

Next, my father was just talking about bruising. Once, during a speed-skating competition, I fell during a race, and my thigh was badly bruised. I fell on my side, and, on the ice, that really burns. Following the treatment – we took off the skinsuit – the one-piece outfit that skaters wear – and we used the Rhumart.

It had just happened, and my leg was black and blue. When we removed the applicator, after a ten-minute treatment, it was pink again. Especially right after it happens, that's really spectacular.

In the summer, I bike to get in shape for speed skating. Personally, I find the system helps me a lot to get in shape or, at least, to recover from my training sessions. Recently, we had the Mont Ste-Anne Cup. For four days, we rode an average of 100 to 110 kilometres a day. At the end of a day like that, you're exhausted.

With RHUMART conditioning sessions, on the second and third days, you could see I had recovered better than the others. Because in the first race, to give you an idea of the numbers, after the first race, I was in 48th place. After the second, I was in 27nd place. And after the third race, I was in 21st place. It's cumulative, and on the last day, I fell back to 22nd place. I had a flat tire, and I had to ride about five kilometres on that tire, and that slows you down quite a bit!

So, for those who want to use it, I've had some very good testimonials from athletes.

For headaches – just about everyone also gets headaches now and then – and it's extraordinary for that.

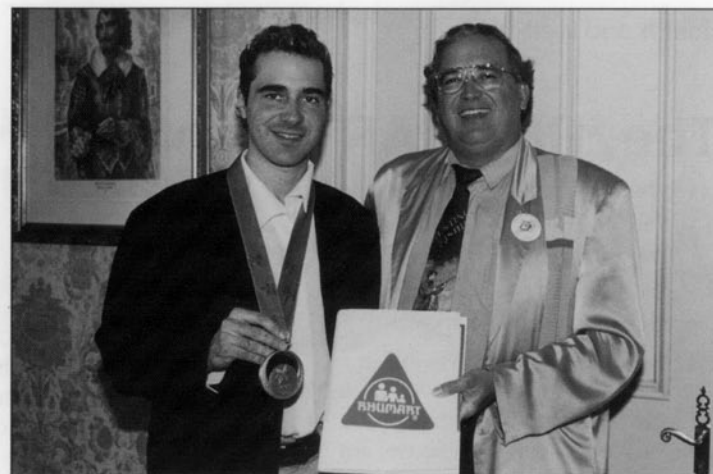

For baldness – often when I deliver a system – and I don't even say it to sell the system – I tell them, "Try it on your hair." People don't believe me, and they burst out laughing. But, really, those of you who have a system tonight, I really recommend you try it – because it works. We'll show you photos at other events. And if any of you here have made your hair grow, maybe you could send some photos to the company.

We see some serious cases; we say it can promote hair growth; it deals with arthritis (at least it helps, in very few treatments), and it's really hard to believe.

But what I ask you, above all, is not really to believe what it does, because of course it's hard to believe, but just to understand how it works.

A little while ago, my father was talking about earth worms.

For myself, I studied the system without really understanding what it did. It was only this year that I began to think about it, and I said to myself, "When I have a cut that heals, the skin completely gone from part of my finger, and within two weeks, the skin reforms. I find that amazing. It's the body's ability to regenerate itself.

And earth worms have that ability – but even more so than us. And I think the human body is well designed – it's designed to function. And if you give it a chance and work with it, that's how you really get results.

What's interesting to understand is that it's not the machine that moves your cells around. The machine sends a signal to your cells, and it's your body that does the work.

In conclusion, my father made a prediction; he said that, within five years, there would be some 100,000 Rhumart units sold. I think you should believe him, because the first predictions he made – he said that, within five years, there would be something like 1,000 units on the market. Right now, there are 3,000 on the market (as of August 1990). And it could take less than five years to sell about 100 000 units, because it's by word of mouth. When it works, it really snowballs.

Thank you.
